Supporters of the McCumber bill are anxious to obtain a vote on it soon after the Senate takes it up. Despite their futile efforts to placate sponsors of other bonus bills, they say they expect to get a vote on it within a short time after the Senate disposes of the tariff bill.

Opponents of the measure taken an Opponents of the measure taken an entirely different view. They interpret the anxiety of the bonus advocates for an early vote as a confession of weakness. "The main desire to rush the bonus bill through the Senate," said an anti-bonus Senator to-day, "is to limit the debate as much as possible. Advocates of the measure do not want too much emphasis placed on the injuities of the bill. They realize that all the strong arguments, those which appeal to sensible people, will be made against the measure and that it will be rather embarrassing for them to vote for the measure once its history and obnoxious provisions are laid before the country."

obnoxious provisions are laid before the country."

Senator Meyers (Mont.), who is opposed to the $5,000,000,000 raid, says there is no doubt that the sentiment throughout the country is growing more pronounced daily in opposition to the McCumber bill. While supporters of the measure in the Senate are not so enthusiastic over it as some months ago. Senator Meyers expressed the opinion that there are plenty of votes in the Senate to put over the bill. He hopes and believes the President will veto the McCumber bill, in which event he will do everything possible to prevent the Senate from overriding the veto.

the bonus issue. It is almost certain they will gain much political advantage once the measure is brought to the Senate floor. Some of the bonus Senators on the minority side will give perfunctory support to the McCumber bill after their own amendments are rejected. Their chief concern, however, is to have the Republican party held responsible by the American people for saddling an unnecessary and indefensible debt of $5,000,000,000 on the American people at this time.

$5,000,000,000 on the American people at this time.

Smarting under the bitter attacks hurled at the tariff bill they are sponsoring, Republican leaders are anxious to soft pedal attacks by the opponents of the bonus. All efforts, however, to muzzle the opposition to that nefarious bill, have failed, so the Republican leaders will have to stand the gaff as best they can. best they can.

Mrs. Marsery Groce Hayden, who has lived at 243 West Ninety-eighth street, filed suit in the Supreme Court yesterday for separation from her husband, Charles Leverett Hayden, alleging abandonment and cruel and inhuman treatment. Mr. Hayden was served with papers in the action at Fairiand Island, Thousand Islands, by James A. Crabb, chief of police in Alexandria Bay.

The Haydens were married June 7, 1918, and according to the complaint filed by Mrs. Hayden, they lived together until April 5. She charges that her husband on various occasions in their New York home and at Thousand Islands charged her with unfaithfulness. She also alleges that in September, 1920, he declared that he would "shoot up everybody" on the Island where they were spending part of the summer, and insisted on keeping a revolver on the idinner table.

The New Mexico Senator takes the view that the ex-service men are anx-lous only for a cash bonus to tide them over the period of depression. He thinks the fund to finance his project should be included in the annual budget. He proposes to force consideration of his bill in the Senate before the McCumber bill is breught up.

in the Senate before the McCumber bill is breught up.
Senator Ladd (N. D.) has also refused to withdraw his bonus bill, of which the cash option is the chief feature. He would finance his measure by authorizing the Treasury Department to issue new paper money to meet the obligation, to be refunded by a heavy tax on all banks capitalized at $100,000 or more. Serious objections to the McCumber bill are entertained by Senator Ladd, although it is believed he will vote for it as a last resort.

Fully realizing that sponsorship of the discredited McCumber bonus bill is a distinct liability, Republican lead-ers have been sparring about, hoping to make a deal with Democratic Senators so they could share the odium.
